GUIDELINES FOR STANDARDS OF CONDUCT

The members of this Association and each member's directors, officers, employees and representatives (when acting on behalf of the member) should subscribe to the following Guidelines for Standards of Conduct.

1. Each member representative should conduct itself with honesty and integrity in its business relationships.
2. Each member representative should keep informed regarding laws, regulations, proposed legislation, public policies, and other essential information which affects its business interests and those of the industry as a whole.
3. Each member representative pledges to support our business associates, our national, state and local Associations.
4. No member representative shall attempt to damage, with malicious intent, either directly or indirectly, the professional reputation, prospects, practice, or employment of another member of the Association; nor shall it indiscriminately criticize another Member's work in public.
5. Each member representative should conduct its business as to avoid controversies between members, and should any such controversy arise, should seek to resolve such controversy quickly and fairly.
6. Each member representative shall be loyal to the Association, and shall refrain from engaging in activities which are counterproductive to the work of the Association and the interests of the building industry. Each member representative should strive to be as active in the affairs and programs of the Association as its time and resources allow.

Please initial next to the boxes and sign below, indicating your agreement with the following statements.
